Prevent flu at work.

Flu is a serious illness.
Each year in the United States, flu causes:
- 9.3 million to 49 million people to get sick.
- 140,000 to 960,000 people to end up in the hospital.
- 3,000 to 49,000 people to die.

Flu is bad for business.
Flu can cause a person to miss up to 6 work days.
Each year in the United States, flu causes:
- 17 million missed work days.
- $7 billion lost productivity.

A flu shot is the best protection.
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends everyone older than 6 months get a flu shot each year.

Good habits promote health.
- Wash hands frequently with soap and water or use hand sanitizer.
- Cover sneezes and coughs with a tissue or elbow.
- Stay home when sick.

Help your employees stay healthy.
- Encourage employees to get a flu shot. Offer an incentive, like an hour off to get a flu shot.
- Give employees information about the importance of flu shots and where they can get one.
- Purchase flu shot gift cards from a pharmacy or other provider and give them to employees.
- Provide hand sanitizer and tissues for staff and visitors.
- Provide employees with sick leave.

Host a flu shot clinic.
- Employees are more likely to get a flu shot when it’s offered at work.
- Many providers will come to your workplace and hold a flu shot clinic.
- Some providers will bill insurance.
- Fall is the best time to get a flu shot. Contact a provider as early as possible to schedule a flu shot clinic.
